

Existentialism
© 1981 by R. Bowdon

RB Am5Dm; Jim: Mandolin
intro is RB 2 measures of Dm

A part

Am C
Hit the ground and run / til your work is done

G Am E
Ask favors of the weak forgotten one

Am C
Only ask of life / help to find the knife

G Am
To cut you free from all this pain

B part

C G
Fleeting is the joy / of a wanderin' boy

F E Am
Soon he grows up wanting costly toys

C G
Did you finally learn / you took a fatal turn

F E Am E
When the road began to blur and burn turnaround = 2nd half of A part

Rob and Jim come in here

Stand in freezing rain / calculating gain

Wait 'til the time is right then just remain

Now the time is out / better to go out

With a whimper than a bang

C G
It's been said you know / that the deepest snow

F E Am
Comes when springtime's buds are soon to grow

C G
Can you prove them wrong / if you wait so long

F E Am E
That your frozen bloodstream will not thaw

NO turnaround

mandolin break, A part only

Claws of fate impale / men on fingernails

Polished and sharpened like the devil's tail

When the judgment comes / will you be the one

To claim responsibility

C G
Do you try to hide / all the bad inside

F E Am
With forgotten dreams and wounded pride

C G
There's no need to scream / no one's ever seen

F E Am E
Hands with so much filth they can't be cleaned turnaround then repeat first A part outro is last line repeated twice