Intro G C D G D C G

G I should have known it at the time

You even warned me after we were through

It would be dangerous to dwell on you

But I can't get you off my mind

From now on I'll be alone

And if somebody asks how do I do

My only answer will be missing you

I should have known it at the time

G I can't believe I didn't see

All the things I did to prove to you

My love was strong and I'd be true to you

Wouldn't matter much in time

I know I've just myself to blame

Now my heart is broken clean in two

While the pieces turn from red to blue

I can't believe I didn't see
