

Someone to Sing Along

© 1988 by R. Bowdon

Key of D

intro = 2 measures

Well Roger is a trucker, yeah he hauls them heavy loads
If you buy the beer he'll tell his favorite tale
About summer eighty-five he tried a different kind of road (walk down)
Singing songs for rent or lease or sale

Well he got some gigs in smoky bars just playing for tips and gin
Sang his heart out for the local lower crust
Make just enough to limp back home to trucking once again
One more professional musician bites the dust / but he sings

Chorus

Music's a part of me / flowing out of me freely (walk down)
I couldn't go a day without a song
And if tomorrow finds me on the minor chord of life (walk down)
This old guitar just might find someone to sing along turnaround

G D A7 D A7

Well once I wrote a song I just knew everyone would love
'cause it captured all the pathos of the age
Well I spent a thousand bucks to make a thousand forty-fives
My song is undiscovered to this day / But I sing
Chorus then verse break

So here's to all the pickin' parties going down today
And here's to swapping songs around the circle
The Muse that lives in all of us has got to have her say (walk down)
I love to get a visit from that girl / cause she sings
Chorus then Outro = repeat last line
